04 · SEARCH TOPICS

Getting found by people who aren't searching for Synthetic Alpha

Non-branded searches are the ones that don't include the business's name. These are people deciding where to go, and they are the new customers a business wants to reach.

Measured: Google Search Console, non-branded searches only · Added up from the highest-ranking searches Google reports each month.

Compared: September 2026 vs. August 2026

Searches in Google's top 10	Searches new to page one	Clicks to the website	Times shown in Google results

Position is where the site ranked on average; a lower number is higher on the page, and positions 1–10 are page one. Topics can overlap, so a search such as "little italy happy hour" can count in both. Added up from the highest-ranking searches Google reports each month, so these are not totals of every search. Across all non-branded searches, average position improved from 15.8 to 14.6.

- Profile actions. Calls, website clicks and direction requests made from your Business Profile. Source: Google Business Profile.
- Search terms. What people searched for before they saw your profile. Google reports a count for common terms and only "fewer than" a number for rare ones, which are shown as "< N". Source: Google Business Profile.
- Search clicks, impressions and click-through rate. Clicks to your website from Google Search, how often your pages appeared, and clicks as a share of appearances. Source: Google Search Console.
- Average position. Where your pages ranked in Google Search on average, weighted by how often each appeared. Lower is better. Source: Google Search Console.
- Searches in Google's top 10. Searches that did not name the business, where the site appeared at least 20 times and ranked 10th or better on average. Position is weighted by how often the site appeared each month.
- Topics and gains. The searches are grouped into topics by wording, and each search is in one topic. A search gained ground when it ranks a place or more better than before, or is new to the site's rankings. Both are added up from the highest-ranking searches Google reports each month, not from every search.
- Branded searches. A search is branded when, ignoring capital letters, apostrophes and punctuation, it contains the name of the business (Synthetic Alpha) or one of its locations. Common misspellings of the name are treated the same way. Branded searches are left out of the search results.
- Visits from search. Website visits that began with an unpaid Google search. Source: Google Analytics.
- Reviews. Counted from your Google reviews. Reviews Google no longer lists are not counted. Average rating covers all reviews up to the end of the period.
- Business Profile days compared. Business Profile figures cover 30 days this period and 31 days in the comparison.
- Not included in this report. Local search ranking: not tracked yet.
